| 12 | Description of underlying instrument (cont.) | The weighting of the shares contained in the respective basket will change during the term of the certificates in accordance with the development of the current market price of the individual share with the number of the relevant share always remaining constant excluding activities required by corporate actions. (This means that if the market price of a share increases more than that of another share, the weighting for the first share shall increase accordingly). |
| 13 | "4.1.7 Subscription Ratio" | not applicable |
| 14 | "4.1.7 Calculation of Residual Value" | 1. As soon as during the term of the turbo certificate the price of the underlying instrument reaches or falls below (turbo long certificates) the barrier (see line 9) or reaches or surpasses the barrier (turbo short certificates), the certificate is knocked out, which means that it is suspended from trading and either expires worthless or the issuer calculates a residual value from the closing out of the hedging deal. 2. Calculation of residual value: The issuer determines a residual value at the latest within three trading hours, which is derived from the closing out of the hedging deal. "Trading hours" means any time on which the relevant exchange of the underlying instrument as well as the Vienna Stock Exchange and/or EUWAX are open for trading and no market disruption event occurs. | 14 | "4.1.7 Calculation of Residual Value" (cont.) | doubt, the closing out of the hedging deal may occur at any time between the knock-out and the determination of the residual value. If permitted by the liquidity of the underlying, this period may also be shortened substantially. Under extreme market conditions, the residual value of the certificates may even be zero. 3. When the certificates are knocked out, the residual value is determined by the issuer. Five banking business days later, the residual value of the certificate is automatically paid out by the issuer. If the day of the payout is not a banking business day, it is postponed to the next following banking business day. 4. The amount of the residual value is determined by how the underlying instrument behaves within the three hours after the knock-out. a. If in the case of turbo long certificates, the underlying instrument rises again after the barrier has been reached, the residual value will be slightly higher. Vice versa, if the underlying instrument falls further after the barrier is reached, the residual value will be accordingly lower. b. If in the case of turbo short certificates the underlying instrument rises again after the barrier has been reached, the residual value will be slightly lower, while the residual value will be slightly higher if the underlying instrument continues to fall after reaching the barrier. |
