As key technologies of the 21st century, artificial intelligence (AI) and robotics will revolutionize many industries from the ground up over the next few years. Already today, we come into contact with these technologies almost every day - often without realizing it. For example, this entire paragraph was written by an AI-based chatbot.

How the certificate works

On the initial valuation date, the starting value of the underlying is recorded and the barrier is defined on this basis. During the observation period, the price of the underlying is compared with the barrier. One of the following scenarios occurs on the last valuation date:

- 1. Barrier not touched or undercut
 - a) If the underlying price always quoted above the barrier and the final value is at or above the bonus level, redemption is affected on the maturity date according to the underlying performance (percentage performance from the starting value to the final value).
 - b) If the underlying price always quoted above the barrier and the final value is below the bonus level, the bonus amount is paid out on the maturity date.
- 2. Barrier touched or undercut at least once

If the underlying price quoted at or below the barrier at least once, redemption is affected on the maturity date according to the underlying performance (percentage performance from the starting value to the final value).
